Quote Of the Week

From Blessed William
Joseph Chaminade

*I desire with all my heart that peace,
union, and charity
may never be troubled.*

THE ROMAN MISSAL CHANGES

What is the Roman Missal? It is the book of prayers, words, and actions used during mass. The Lectionary contains the readings, while the Roman Missal contains everything else that is spoken or done. A new translation will begin to be used on the First Sunday of Advent, 2011.

Is anything staying the same? Mass will still follow the same structure that we are used to. The order in which we do things, called the Order of Mass, is not changing.

If the Mass isn't changing, then why do we have a "new" Roman Missal? Everyone understands that updates are necessary. Just like with computer upgrades, the best things are kept, new features are added, and some things are removed. The same is true with the Roman Missal. Some new memorials have been added to the Liturgical Calendar, like Padre Pio. New prayers and readings are offered for more Vigil masses, like the Vigil of Pentecost.

Aren't there more important things for the Church to worry about? The celebration of the Eucharist is "the source and summit of Christian life" (Lumen Gentium 11). The Catechism of the Catholic Church states "all ecclesiastical ministries and works of the apostolate are bound up with the Eucharist and oriented towards it" (CCC 1324). If we hold this to be true, then there is nothing more important than an authentic celebration of the Eucharist.

As the new translation draws us deeper into the scriptures and mysteries of the Paschal Sacrifice, let us pray that the UD community will draw nearer to Christ and one another. (Ellen Garmann, GA for Liturgy)

Sunday Readings and Reflection

Reading I: Sirach 15:15-20
Responsorial Psalm: 119:1-2, 4-5, 17-18, 33-34
Reading II: 1 Corinthians 2:6-10
Gospel: Matthew 5:17-37
or 5:20-22a, 27-28, 33-34a, 37

*Let your 'Yes' mean 'Yes,' and your 'No' mean 'No.'
Anything more is from the evil one."*
Matthew 5:37

A local charity which serves the poor in the Dayton area will receive 10% of every Sunday collection. The rest of the collection supports more than 100 Campus Ministry programs of all kinds, including our

Service Program of the Week: UD Flyers Optimist Club

is a children's service organization, dedicated to the children of Dayton and the surrounding community to "bring out the best in kids" and to fundraise for curing childhood cancer. We participate in various service opportunities, many related to sport and arts and crafts! Join us and have some fun!
